Manito Lake

CONSERVATION AREA

MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

About this Area

Manito Lake Conservation Area is in western Moniteau County, located 5 miles south of Tipton on Highway 5, then 1/2 mile west on East Manito Road. The Conservation Department purchased this 871 acre area in 1981, and a 77 acre lake was built shortly thereafter. Manito is an American Indian word that means “great spirit”. It is also a variation on Moniteau, the county name. The area is predominantly rolling uplands, with a mix of old fields, native warmseason grass plantings, cropfields, shrubby draws, and small timbered blocks. The area is managed to provide year-round food and cover for wildlife. The general management focus is on rabbits, quail, open and grassland songbirds like dickcissels, the sometimes more elusive grasshopper sparrow, or less common Henslow’s sparrow. Birders can find a seasonal variety of songbirds associated with the openlands, woodlands and lake. Waterfowlers likewise would appreciate the seasonal waterfowl attraction to the lake. Public use facilities include disable-accessible fishing, parking, and toilets. A boat ramp provides access to the lake, and perimeter parking areas give area users reasonable parking and walk-in access to the area.
