Statements of Purpose:

A. Strategic Direction

These areas were obtained and are currently maintained primarily for wildfire detection purposes. The Lenox Tower is likely eligible for listing on the National Register for Historic Places, as it was erected in 1958. The Montauk Tower, however, is not likely eligible for listing as it was built later in 1963.

B. Desired Future Condition

Maintain structural integrity of these towers to ensure safety of fire lookout personnel. Manage surrounding forests to ensure healthy, sustainable forest resources.

C. Federal Aid Statement

Appendix 5. Dent County Towersites Management Plan Public Comments

Public Input Summary:

The draft Dent County Towersites Area Management Plan was available for a public comment period January 1–31, 2015. The Missouri Department of Conservation received comments from three respondents (Appendix A). The Dent County Towersites Planning Team carefully reviewed and considered these ideas as they finalized this document. A brief summary of public input themes, including how they were incorporated or why they were not, can be found below. Rather than respond to each individual comment, comments are grouped into general themes and are addressed collectively.

Department responses to themes and issues identified through Dent County Towersites public comment period

Appreciates the historic prospective and outdoor opportunity for adventure that the towersite provides.

The planning team agrees that the towers are part of the area's history with fire and are still used in heavy fire years. The towers themselves are available for the general public to climb at their own risk, but the cab at the top is not open for public use.

Interested in purchasing this towersite, if available.

The Department periodically reviews properties to assess whether to dispose of areas. This determination is based on a thorough evaluation of the need for the property, cost-effectiveness, and consequences of retention or disposal on resource management. Historic importance and public reaction to disposal are also considerations, as well as aesthetic considerations and liability. At this time the Department has no plans to dispose of the towers or the properties. However, if in the future the decision is made to sell the towers and/or properties, notices would be sent out and they would be put up for public auction.

Concerned about unlawful or rowdy behavior at the towersite and the safety of those that climb the tower.

The planning team shares the concern about unlawful and rowdy behavior at the towersites and the safety of those climbing the towers. Conservation agents and law enforcement officers do spot checks of these areas. However, staff cannot be at these areas all the time, so we rely on neighbors and the general public calling our agents or the County Sheriff's office to report unlawful visitors and unsafe use.

The planning team would like to thank everyone who called or wrote in concerning these conservation areas. We appreciate your comments and concerns.

Appendix 5. Dent County Towersites Area Management Plan Public Comments

Received during public comment period (January 1-31, 2015)

The towersites provide a historic prospective and an opportunity for an outdoor adventure with family and friends. The area plan for these units seems appropriate.

If there is interest in selling the 40 acres at Montauk fire tower I would be willing to purchase the land and give rights of use for the tower and parking area to the conservation department. Please advise. In addition I would be interested in setting up a quail and Rabbit habitat to increase the population on one of my properties.

Personally we live directly behind this property and we join it, we would like to buy the acreage as this has been a party place for teens and whoever and several people climb this tower, one day someone will get hurt. I would be interested in buying this. I would fence it off and preserve the tower or you could take it. Thanks
